Humorous events/Anecdotes – need some stories

Went down for weekend and some were skiing back to Lodge after a few drinks at night. Tibby and some others went into the creek and had a cold trip back.

Doug – Trish Muggeridge was skiing in the Perisher Cup. She was doing very well until she came to the jumps. First jump was good but the second jump she fell down and broke her wrist. 23.29. When they asked what was wrong she said “I’ve broken my bloody hand”.

Typical night people stayed up and talked and drank a bottle of red or two.

Tibby remembers going down for three week period working. Working Bees were done in the summer months. ....? Dawes and Alan Mitchell were helpers. Outside of building would be painted. When Fred Walsh? was painting outside the building near the Window high up on the extension ladder drinks were being passed out to him. Tibby realised he had got slowly drunk as the drinks had rum.

There was night down at the Man from Snowy Inn with Graeme Johnson. One went to a seat and the others went home. They realised one was missing and went back. They found him asleep on the lounge inside the closed Inn.
